She ~~imported~~ came with her 2 sons, 21 and 15 years of age. The village HUSAKIV is near PEREMYSHL and close to the Soviet-Polish border. SUBJECT ~~E~~ gave the following information:

1. In the vicinity of NIZHANKOVYCHI ~~borderline~~ the population of one of them YAKSMANYCHI/ 2 villages has been completely resettled (probably because of the border zone)
2. In the village LACKA VOLA a big railroad station has been constructed. LACKA VOLA is the last railroad station on the Soviet side of the border. MEDYKA <sup>on /</sup> is on the Polish side. On both sides of the station LACKA VOLA ~~there exists~~ a swampy terrain, aluminum structures of oval shape and as big as "two storey buildings" which is probably a forbidden zone/ have been constructed and nobody from among the population knows what they are for; and what do they contain. In LACKA VOLA live only families of railroad personnel and border guards. In the neighboring villages RADOKHONTSI, CHYZHKY, SUSIDO-VYCHI live resettlers from Poland.
